Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) This training course will come from the regulatory and industry perspective. It will cover the federal Good manufacturing practices regulations (CFR 21 Part 110). It will give you insight to maintain compliance with the federal regulations for your facilities.

Sanitation Standard Operating Procedures (SSOP) This training course will come from the regulatory and industry perspective. It will cover the federal guidelines for monitoring sanitation for HACCP programs and general sanitation monitoring for compliance. It will give you insight to maintain compliance with the federal regulations and third party audits for your facilities.

Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points (HACCP) HACCP is a food safety component, with GMP and SSOP, that regulatory agencies (Seafood, Meat and Fresh Juice Products, it is mandatory) and third party auditors (Customer driven Food Safety Programs) used to ensure food safety. The requirement for HACCP, GMP and SSOP are rapidly becoming a way of life for the food industry. There is possible legislation in the U.S. Congress to make HACCP mandatory for all food manufacturers.

Be ahead of the game, Get Your Firms Started In The Right Direction Early with this Course .
Remember, you must know your GMPs and SSOP Monitoring before you can take this HACCP Course.

Who Should Enroll? Business owners, senior officers, QA/QC managers, and production supervisors. Line production workers will also benefit from this training.
